We introduce and explore some concepts of weak solution for particular nonlinear partial differential equations. These notions have their roots in the fundamental work of A. D. Aleksandrov on the Monge-Ampere measure. We also consider applications to affine and complex geometry and to optimal transportation.

Related Links:
Pacific Institute for the Mathematical Sciences