Collaborations Between University Math Departments and Public Schools

Max Warshauer from Texas State University

In this talk, I will describe challenges in working with public schools and our experiences with math camps, a curriculum project, and teacher training. This discussion will outline steps in setting up collaborations, how they can benefit all the parties, and problems that can occur. I will also describe lessons learned, and where we are now in some of our current projects.

Related Links:
Pacific Institute for the Mathematical Sciences

Event Type:
- Colloquia

Event Subcalendar:
- UW-PIMS Colloquium

Administrative Office
C-138 Padelford
Box 354350
Seattle, WA 98195-4350
Phone: (206) 543-1150
Fax: (206) 543-0397

For all academic inquiries, please contact:
Math Student Services
C-36 Padelford
Phone: (206) 543-6830
Fax: (206) 616-6974
advising@math.washington.edu